

SHERRY BOSCHERT

1484 16th Ave., San Francisco, CA 94122-3510

415-730-9797 / sherry.boschert@gmail.com / @sherryboschert / www.sherryboschert.com

Work

2015-present Self-employed independent scholar, author, freelance journalist, and blogger, at work on a history of Title IX and blogging on “37 Words” at www.sherryboschert.com

1991-2014: San Francisco Bureau Chief, Frontline Medical News (formerly known as International Medical News Group), filing medical news reports in multimedia formats

1990-1991: Freelance reporter for The New York Times and on-staff editor for Times-Beacon Newspapers, Stony Brook, N.Y.

1989-1990: Reporter, The Staten Island Advance daily newspaper, Staten Island, N.Y.

1979-1989: Editor, reporter, or copy editor at various newspapers and magazines including Record Newspapers, Port Jefferson, N.Y., and Teen Magazine, Los Angeles, Calif.

Awards and Honors

2011 Plug In America Certificate of Recognition

2003 American Academy of Dermatology Gold Triangle Award for news reporting

2001 Society of Professional Journalists Award for Distinguished Service

2001 National Lesbian and Gay Journalists Association Distinguished Service Award

1997 Gay and Lesbian Medical Association Media Visibility Award

1995 National Breast Cancer Awareness Month Profiles in Progress Award

1988 New York Press Association First Place Award for General Excellence, Division 3

Publications and presentations

Presentation: Aug. 4, 2018 - “Uppity Women, Nasty Women: From Title IX to #MeToo in Fresno, Calif.,” at the Pacific Coast Branch of the American Historical Association annual meeting, Santa Clara, Calif.

Book: Plug-in Hybrids: The Cars That Will Recharge America (New Society Publishers, 2006)

Praise: “This is an important book. As a historian I was intrigued by the history; as a reader I was charmed by the writing; as a citizen I was outraged by the auto industry’s duplicity...” -- Historian Martin J. Sherwin, co-author of the Pulitzer Prize-winning American Prometheus: The Triumph and Tragedy of J. Robert Oppenheimer (Vintage Books 2006)

Articles:

“After 43 years of Title IX, women find their voice,” op-ed in the San Francisco Chronicle, online Nov. 17, 2015 and in print Nov. 19, 2015, page A12:

<http://www.sfchronicle.com/opinion/openforum/article/After-40-years-of-Title-IX-women-find-their-voice-6639552.php>

I've published more than 2,000 articles and many dozens of video reports as a journalist, primarily for Frontline Medical News, where I worked for 23 years before pivoting to my current book project Search online for "Sherry Boschert medical news," or see lists of my non-medical articles and media appearances here: http://www.sherryboschert.com/?page_id=296

Examples of previous non-medical news articles:

- "The end of the long summer," book review in Yes! Magazine, April 13, 2010: <http://www.yesmagazine.org/issues/america-the-remix/the-end-of-the-long-summer>
- "The secret life of plug-in cars," Yes! Magazine, Jan. 29, 2008: <http://www.yesmagazine.org/issues/climate-solutions/the-secret-life-of-plug-in-cars>
- "We need Voltswagens," op-ed in the Los Angeles Times, Nov. 19, 2007: <http://articles.latimes.com/2007/nov/19/news/OE-BOSCHERT19>

Examples of medical news articles:

- "Texting intervention helped smokers quit," Rheumatology News, Aug. 7, 2014: <http://www.rheumatologynews.com/views/the-rheumor/blog/texting-intervention-helped-smokers-quit/851b4d6024d814eadd2bf40d072e1fe6.html>
- "Medical conferences going digital: A perspective," Thoracic Surgery News, Jan. 20, 2014: <http://www.thoracicsurgerynews.com/home/article/medical-conferences-going-digital-a-perspective/757b6e5cb5f28d2f6f812e6f4628f5a4.html>

Examples of video reports of medical news:

- "Smartphone ECG detects atrial fibrillation," Family Practice News, Oct. 3, 2014: <http://www.familypracticenews.com/home/article/video-smartphone-ecg-detects-atrial-fibrillation/88fee1cc4e7bd4a6e71990f440c3d87c.html>
- "Integrative oncology expert discusses management," Oncology Practice, Sept. 5, 2014: <http://www.oncologypractice.com/home/article/video-integrative-oncology-expert-discusses-management/7432156db45d7ac95753dafbd6e291cc.html>

Examples of presentations related to my book Plug-in Hybrids:

- Massachusetts Institute of Technology, June 2008
- University of California, Berkeley, October and May 2007
- Google Headquarters, Mountain View, Calif., June 2007
- University of Wisconsin-Whitewater, April 2007
- San Francisco Commonwealth Club, February 2007
- Florida Atlantic University, February 2007
- University of Central Florida, January 2007
- See dozens more at: http://www.sherryboschert.com/?page_id=311

Other relevant information

- Currently blogging at 37 Words, a blog of Title IX-related video interviews, historical analysis, and commentary at www.sherryboschert.com (named after the 37 words in Title IX)
- Member: American Historical Association; Coalition of Independent Scholars

Education

B.A. in English and Anthropology, Amherst College, Amherst, Mass.